SEPTEMBER 2018

Infant Newsletter

Well, September's here! We're not sure about you, but we're not ready to let go of summer yet! September kicks off apple picking (and baking!), and beautiful sunflowers blooming in the beautiful sunrises.

Our Infant room is growing again. We are so blessed to have Ivy's (Jr. Pre) twin brother and sister, Amos and Lilah join us this month! We had Ivy as a tiny baby 2 years ago!

Quinn is up and moving and trying to crawl! She'll be moving to Waddlers mid-September so she has more space to move! Madeline is scooting and can say Mama and Dada and is working on turning pages in our books! Roy is scooting and Marty (our two cousins!) are trying to crawl. Roy loves to giggle with Madeline, who both can find the most unusual things to be funny! Owen loves to sit in the bumbo circle of friends as we play the babble game. Nina likes tummy time by the mirror with Sophia! Both of them have very important things to say to each other. Sophia can roll over and scoot to reach the toys she wants! Santiago loves to play in the exersaucers and toys with his friends. He has a contagious smile!

In Waddlers, Carl will celebrate his 1st birthday on September 20th. Happy Birthday, Carl!! Carl loves to eat and roll the toy trucks around with Landon! Landon loves to wave and say Mama, Dada, Bye-Bye, and BaBa. He and Carl will 'graduate' to Jr. Toddlers when the infant twins come. We'll miss both of them but we know they'll have fun! Olivia loves to wave and talk. She loves turning pages for us as we read books and copies our mouth movement as we sing our songs! Caleb and Olivia are buddies! Caleb loves elephants and crawling in the tunnel, under beds, and rolling trucks with Landon!

Waddlers need light hooded jackets and soft shoes (Robeez style are great for this age!) They will go outside occasionally when weather permits! Also sippy cups are great for training as they begin to train on finger foods and eventually transition to school lunches (usually at 11-12 months).

We hope you all have a blessed month and still enjoy summer! We love our Funshine families!
